Artist Bio

Barbara is a board member of the Blue Ridge Polymer Clay Guild. Since joining the guild she has coordinated workshops with nationally know artists Donna Kato, Barbara McGuire, Marla Frankenberg and Kim Cavender. Barbara was given acknowledgement in Donna Kato's most recent book, The Art of Polymer Clay.

Artist Statement

Creative expression "bloomed" late in my life. Finally, in my mid-life, I have discovered I have more time to pursue the things that give me pleasure. I have come to realize designing and creating jewelry with polymer clay has opened up a new dimension to my life. My previous professional career as a community organizer always involved work and challenges with many people and coming to consensus with everyone's views, conversely my art is very personal and is from me alone. It's about me and what I think it should be as I express myself to others. This is a very different concept for me and I like it!
